

*„The only real voyage of discovery consists not in seeking new landscapes
but in having new eyes.“*

Marcel Proust (1871 – 1922)

European Garden Award

The finalists of the “European Garden Award” will be announced in July 2010 by the European Garden Heritage Network EGHN with its current partners in eight European countries (the UK, Germany, France, Belgium, the Netherlands, Sweden, Italy and Ireland). The EGHN network is led by the Foundation Schloss Dyck, Centre for Garden Art and Landscape Design in Germany and supported by a number of local, regional and national organisations.

Within two categories, this award will annually honour exceptional achievements in garden culture and in making use of parks and gardens in urban and regional development policies.

The first category will look at historic parks and gardens that have been subject to exemplary restoration, enhancement or development measures or activities related to social inclusion, education, environment or visitor services.

The second category will identify high quality and innovative contemporary concepts and designs of parks and gardens already implemented or in progress of realisation.

Additionally, in an open category a Special Award of the Foundation Schloss Dyck, Centre for Garden Art and Landscape Design, can be awarded, e.g. to a group or initiative supporting the creation or restoration of a park or garden or to a successful garden arts event.

The selection of nominees and winners will not at all be limited to the sites, partners and countries within the EGHN network.

Members of the international jury are: Gunnar Ericson (Malmö), Alan Thornley (Chester), Ed Bennis (Manchester), Roswitha Arnold (Köln), Klaus von Krosigk (Berlin), Hans-Dieter Collinet (Aachen) and Stefan Lenzen (Bonn).

The jury will discuss the list of finalists end of June 2010, and the decision will then be presented to the public. The awards will be handed out to the winners during an event on the 6th September 2010 on the occasion of the “illumina”, the reputable light show at Schloss Dyck.

EUROPEAN GARDEN
HERITAGE NETWORK

Stiftung Schloss Dyck

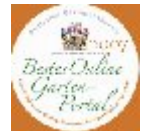

D - 41363 Jüchen

Fon: +49 21 82 / 824 - 0

Fax: +49 21 82 / 824 - 110

E-Mail: info@eghn.eu

Web: www.eghn.eu

DESIGNPREIS
2009

NOMINIERT